VETUS pays attention to the tiniest details

PPL2 knobs

It is the little things in life that matter. VETUS understands that attention to detail makes a big difference in your cabin, so that's why we proudly present our new hinged window and portlight knobs!

Ergonomically refined, restyled and durable as ever: these new knobs know how to turn. The tapered design gives it a modern flair, while the more pronounced indents allow your fingers to grip it better. This really improves the way you close a window!

But that's not all: installation of these knobs is exactly the same as the previous model, making them easily interchangeable. If you are fitting a new hatch or port light to your boat and you'd like to retain the old design knobs, please carefully remove them from your old hinged window or portlight and install them on your new one. If you like the new knob better, you can order additional sets for all of your remaining hinged windows and portlights using item number PPL2.

The new version of the knob is supplied with all new hinged windows and portlights. PPL2 is available from stock.
